WRITING IN DIFFERENT INKS.

BECOME A MALICE AFFILIATE

What is a Malice affiliate?

We love working with authors of all genres and sharing your news and triumphs! Stay connected with other indie authors. Have friends to call upon for release parties and never feel alone in your publishing adventure. Self-publishing doesn't have to be a one-man/woman show. Join the Malice community and hone your craft alongside other authors at various stages of their career paths.

Have an upcoming release? An impending cover reveal? Want to drum up interest for a sale? Let us know and we'd love to share your news through the Malice Facebook page.

That's not all! We'd love to help:

- Share your advice and news through our blog
- Announce your triumphs via our annual newsletter
- Feature you on our website (www.maliceauthors.com)
- Connect with new readers through our events and chats
- Connect with other authors for your events

All we ask in return is that you support the network, reach out to other authors and, most importantly, have fun!
